-- Tsunami

Hi All,

This month's newsletter is focused on the spiritual perspective of the current devastation caused by the earthquake and subsequent tsunami. My heart has ached to see the plight of so many but as I'm reminded in the following passages, my ache is also for something else and it has a purpose.

I was concerned and reluctant about sending this out initially. Spirit's perspective seems cold and unfeeling at times. I changed my mind after reading Caroline Myss's New Year's newsletter as she addressed the sometime unfeeling nature of Spirit's perspective. Her gentle explanation spurred me on to deliver this to you.

Comments, ideas and thoughts are welcome.

Love to all.

Dearest Friends and Guidance, my Higher Self,

I am wondering about the tsunami. I've read other's words about it. Is it really an indication of Earth's dimensional changes? I would be honored and grateful for your presence and would love to hear your words on these topics I've brought to the surface.

Hello Child. Peace is with you. We understand all of your questions and we will move forward to include our thoughts into your gentle opening.

Remember we are here in this room with you always. We do not disappear and then reappear once again when you call upon us. We are always present. Know that. You will never lose us. Be aware of our presence throughout your day. It will gladden your day; like daises in a jam jar, a joy to see. We are that refreshment to you. See us as the daises; peaceful, loving and available to your view; anytime, anytime.

We will answer your question regarding the tsunami as it is on everyone's mind at the moment.

A place has been set to receive all those who passed over during the catastrophe as you're calling it. A body of beings, a committee of receivers is holding the doors open to welcome all into the kingdom of light. Know that all are returning Home and most are readjusting to the newly created environment fitting for all those who have created the opening for the Earth's advancement.

You see Child, energy is energy. The Divine energy of the Universe flows equally through Human Beings as it does through rock and stone. The same energy that created the Universe also created the apparatus that holds the souls and spirit of Human entities. Therefore, place-setters, those who anchor energy must also release their grip from time to time in order to equalize and allow 'steam' to flow up and out of the Earth's crust. In this instance, the Children of God who've given up their human housing, their bodies have performed an enormous service to those of you who remain. You owe them a debt of gratitude for they make it possible for you to proceed in a lighter way that until now contained such great density. Their deaths, as you place your meaning on their passing is not in vain but to be glorified and exemplified as the greatest sacrifice mankind can give back to itself. These are not the lost ones, no; a little disorientated but not lost. They are revered and honored above all for their willingness to release their hold on the density, the lid on the planet if you will.

There will be many more explosions of this nature Child before all Earth changes are done. You, yourself hold a key to its transformation. You, yourself play a role in all the upheaval but it is not what it seems. Mother Earth is weary of the games that children do to one another in the name of Divinity, its Godhead and she produces equally the force of reckoning, to focus attention back to what is precious; what is of value.

Hear her, Children when she calls. She is asking all of you to remember the precious gift that life is and to revere the gift of it above all your possessions. She calls on you to release the aggrandizement of wealth in order to take care of your fellow brothers and sisters who suffer, and produces the opportunity to remember, deep within your hearts the correct law of the Universe which states, "You shall love your brother as yourself and you will treat all living creators as your cousins." Be at peace with one another and the explosions will stop. You will see, you will see.

There is no Armageddon, only the one you produce by ignoring your knowing hearts that refuse to acknowledge that what you do to others, you do to yourself. What you do to Mother Earth and her children on the surface, she will counter balance within: equal and opposite.

Be prepared for more Child as the energy has not yet balanced out. Be patient with yourselves, but learn the lesson of humility that Mother Earth produces as she cleanses herself of the density held within her. Be prepared for more earthquakes. This time following a route west of the one produced over the last two weeks. Its impact will be equally devastating and your wars will stop. Literally, stop because the energy to sustain destruction cannot be equal to that produced by Mother Earth. She will show her strength and she will not be denied, and all, literally all Child, will be humbled. Be prepared Child, be prepared.

Guides, is this a direct warning to me that I should be prepared to hear about it?

You, Child have loved ones in the area know as California. Be prepared to hear of destruction in this area, Child. We cannot tell you any more at this time but it is planned.

Should I collect food, supplies, firewood etc?

You will not be directly hit or affected but your loved ones will. Be prepared to hear news about them that is of a sad nature. Be prepared Child, be prepared.

Be prepared for sadness?

Be prepared for sadness of a Nation and a world greatly changed by events. Your world is changing rapidly. So you are cautioned to be prepared.

How can I prepare? What must I do?

Hold the light in your area. Gather with others and anchor Divine energy into your place. Hold the frequency of shift and change and be as the anchor of the Earth. Hold her steady and know she will rock around a lot. Be prepared in mind, body and spirit to contain the Divinity descending to alight and walk among you. You will know them when you meet them by their light. You will see it. Know that they come to anchor and prepare the way for you. So do not be afraid to follow. All is well in their presence. Your work will be to continue to grow this energy till it blooms and becomes contagious among you. It is happening very fast now; very fast.

I am troubled somewhat by what was written previously about the Earthquakes and that we're to expect more of them. It is hard to believe and even harder to believe that this knowledge comes through me. I invite and allow you to speak more of it. Are you here with me? Can you dialogue with me?

We are here Child, as always. Peace again is with you. You cannot deny what has been written. It is the truth, as the future will hold to. These things are known. This is something that must transpire in order for Mother Earth and the Children of God who live upon her to come back into balance. See it as the weighing out of troubles and tribulations against a backdrop of direct stimulation for change and growth. You cannot on the Earth plane come back into balance and make pain and suffering disappear without causing some kind of rejuvenation of energy. It is no small task Mother Earth performs in response and recognition of the advancement that is being asked for. She would keep all her children safe, this is known, but the balancing forces that produce such cataclysm do not fall within her jurisdiction to alter. She supplies the energy for the transforming act, but the motivation, the impetus itself comes from your desire to readjust and rejoin the Universal Song.

There are many, many on the Earth plane that are truly sick and tired, and desperate to return Home. They want an end to all the suffering and trouble that life on Earth produces and therefore, they ask for change. Actually Child, it is more like a scream.

A scream has direction. It has impetus. It is heard throughout the Universe, and it is heard by Mother Earth. She heaves and uproots herself in response to all that pain and suffering in order to release the energy stored within her bounds, which can create big changes very fast. Yes, it is painful; yes it is devastating; but she is responding to the call for change. For change, Child; understand what this implies.

It implies that enough of you are ready to change, willing and able to now make the transition to the reinstatement of Divine status to the Earth plane. You are ascending. You are raising your weakened and very vulnerable selves up from the impossible to the possible. It is monumental, and your Earth changes represent the monument to the change. Those who have given up their physical cloaking to allow the lightening of the planet did so knowing the outcome, and although appear unready were indeed truly ready to be of service. Thank them in your prayers. Reach out to them now and thank them for that which they do and continue to do for others. You will see, Child you will see. Mercy is upon them all. They do not suffer. They have alighted with the wings of 'their true place in the Divine realm' and are flying. Praise them for their gift and their willingness to serve. They are all your brothers and sisters and they are happy for the outcome. Be at peace knowing that one day the true understanding of what has occurred will reach you and you will see the wisdom in this seeming mystery. It is energy Child. Just energy and it is yours to do with as you will. Look at what you do.

From our standpoint it is an enormous tragedy, one causing pain, suffering and hardship for many. It is difficult to reconcile your words of joy and thanks to those who died, to the scenes of such destruction. It is hard to understand how so many innocents have given up their lives for this event you call transformative. How can we reconcile your words with our vision of destruction? It appears callous and unfeeling to do anything but grieve.

You pose the question that many have been feeling. An ability to understand why there is a feeling of joy while at the same time it is destruction they witness.

Well, I don't feel joy. I feel an immense overwhelm of compassion and sorrow for those folks affected.

But is it not also true that your heart weeps for the great out stretching of hands that reach out to those who suffer, and that feeling overfills your heart and your compassion flows to all. Do you not see Child that your tears wash away the pain and create an avenue for that compassion to flow outward, from your heart, in power filled way, to these nations? They heal those who've suffered long and hard for many years from incredible hardships and pain, unbeknown to much of the world.

Does it surprise you to realize that some of the most tormented souls on the planet lived in these regions and that their desire and faith to be reunited with their Maker created the opportunity to receive the healing that they always, ALWAYS, needed?

These countries are abused countries of many eons. They take their heritage, their Divine connection to their Gods very seriously and through that power have brought attention to themselves. These are powerful beings that rely on prayer and ceremony to do for them what their physical bodies have been unable to surmount for centuries. Their love of the Father is all encompassing to them and in their great desire and great need they have performed one more sacrificial ceremony to finally end the suffering of this region. This will end it Child, have no mistake. This part of the world will now blossom and grow in an unprecedented show of rejuvenated mind, body and spirit: a graceful heaven upon earth.

It is time for all on the Earth plane to recognize that while others on the Earth suffer, you cannot ever be truly happy with the way the Earth is. It is not until all have received the opportunity to be pulled out of despair and hopelessness that true happiness can be found. All else is an illusion. Remember, when we say peace to you Child it means be aware that there is progress and you are not to be fearful about what your tasks are and how they may be handled. All is indeed peaceful in that respect. We remind you to be peaceful so that you will be encouraged to perform your duties on the Earth plane to the satisfaction of yourself and others. Otherwise you will all continue to suffer ad infinitum.

The time has come on the Earth plane to notice the suffering that exists upon it and that it is the duty of all to know that part of a Human Beings' job is to alleviate the suffering of others, if it is within their power and means to do so. Even the faintest smile can create the warmest glow in someone who suffers. Do remember the smallest of gestures transforms. It is Divinity's way.

Remember to place yourself Child at the helm of your own ship. Do not let another dictate to you how you assist others in alleviating their pain. Others do make a difference in the lives of those who suffer, and as you're all God's children and each a member of the family, it is the duty of all to help their family when in distress. Know this to be true and is the correct use of the will. Place yourself firmly at the steerage of your life and do as you can for others, and you will witness and experience great love, compassion and pride in yourself and others. It is true, it is true. Be prepared, Child. Your time will come to be more involved than at present. You, yourself are healing wounds and suffering in order to be a light for others who still hide out in the dark.

Praise be to God for his love for humanity and the transformation his loving family performs in service to all. In truth Child, in truth.
