Hi Everyone!

I received this channeling a week ago and recognized the hope in it. I wanted to send this one on because with all the Earth changes right now, and with lots of people leaving the planet, we need to see the signposts to assist us moving forward and not get stuck in the grief.

As a empath I feel much without knowing the true cause, and as I believe you are too, I think you might be able to affirm with me that when the other dimensions point the direction to hope it's good to pay attention and focus on it for our inner well-being.

I send this on with love in my heart to you all.

Vivienne

Earth Upgrade

Dear Guidance, Divine Nature,

I write to allow your energies to descend for the purpose of receiving love, words of wisdom, knowledge and understanding of the way of Spirit, and to bring this energy and understanding in for others. Dear Friends, thank you for being here and communicating with me now.

Dear Child, we are here and present.

We wish to visit with you and tell you of things, potentials for the energy now coming in, that can serve humanity and thereby distribute more profoundly the influence of God's word.

Be prepared now to witness a new dynamic for you, an unveiling of new thought forms, new energetic alignments with the super construction of planet Earth's multidimensional nature

You are superimposing a Divine transcript of ideas and information along with your writing today Child. You will deliver various encoded messages to yourself through the writing that will create a catalyst for change among those called your readers.

You are all being prepared to enter into a tunnel of light, a hallway into new times. It is a paradigm of conscious thought transcending into time and space to propel an enlargement of the Universal law, "We are all One". As such, Child you (all) are activating a cosmic key to unlock mysteries into common everyday human reality. Your awareness of the nature of heaven and earth is shifting and you are creating the parasynthetic emulator to reproduce scholarly interpretation of the Divine Paradise on Earth.

This is all very mysterious and esoteric. I'm not sure I really understand what you are saying.

From the beginning of time itself, you have stood on the threshold of holding two worlds into one compartmental state of existence; the thrusting/trusting of Divine expression into the hands, as it were, of interfaced reality where two worlds play with moving energy/matter along a time line of experiences stimulating cause and effect. Cause and effect over time has resulted in the melting down of Divine expression, those higher energies of the light field. These have diminished fading or shielding true joy and happiness that is your heavenly nature. The suppression over time has led to a dulling of your creative powers, a belief in their absence, and that you are dependant of each other for survival. Hence, you tend to move parallel across your field of potential, ignoring the upward sweep of interfacing with the Divine energy for fresh ideas of a rejuvenating nature. Your energy fields, when interfacing with each other along parallel lines interlace to recycle the same thought forms over and over again, causing weakness in your mental ability to pull yourself out of the same type of repetitive issues, never seeming to find new solution to very old dilemmas.

You are now entering through a tunnel of transformational matter, an inverted cone-shaped light field resplendent with open doors for awakening thought forms, inviting you to chose greater, more powerful options from disillusioned and limited thinking. You are being activated to produce singular healing methods that involve the awakening language to support enough field activation potentials. In other words, you are moving your world's old crusty thought forms of self perpetuated limited arcane language, through a transformer to engage new language skills that greatly enhance the ability of all humans to imagine a greater world experience from the one currently being experienced. You are becoming inventive and self actualizing. You are each assimilating new paradigms of awakened consciousness more closely associated with a 'heavenly' state of existence.

Okay. I'm beginning to understand. We are being zapped as it were. Something like a high level light is stimulating an awakening in us to use more enlightened thinking for solutions to common ancient problems?

Yes, Child, indeed you have balanced the energy of our message well. You see until a time arrives when you can actively engage with one another with a new profound sense of infusion of a higher vision, as you have when you imagine heaven on earth, you will continue to go round and round, finding solutions out of the old limited perception of yourself from your past. Remember, the time line of cause and effect? It takes a stimulation to adjust the old patterns of thinking to kick you out of the perpetual cycles of dominate but disillusioned way of being. This is the opening that has been called forth; the re-awakening of Divine inspiration in order to stimulate fresh ideas to bring you out of old dilemmas.

So when will this happen?

Actually, it is happening now Child. It is being implemented alongside your current Earth cleansings and will last for approximately 10 years. It is a cone of enlightenment issuing directives to intercede on behalf of those not yet awake to the call of Divinity. It is a device implemented by a dual council meeting with alliances who serve the activation of the Earth's restoration to pristine nature. Souls are never lost Child and all the help is being given to aid those still resistant to these transformational times. It is God's love interceding to help clean up the Planet, not in an old way but with new enlightened thinking. It will begin to be obvious this is happening as you begin to implement global alliances for the search and re- settlement of those directly affected by areas of great Earth upheaval. We have stated before Child that your wars will stop as more of Mother Earth transitions toward her healed state. You will not have the time nor the energy to play at war games any more as the great need for compassionate facilitation of rescue operations become the focus of the day. You will all begin to reassess your notions of survival as you transition from a fractured society with hierarchal domination over one another, to a blending, a healed wound of filial love and regard for all of humanity. For, it will be demonstrated that the love required to assist and help others out of dire circumstance will be an unconditional one and given freely due to the understanding you are all One and you are all in the Earth changes together. We will end here, Child for the time being.

Parasynthetic Emulator

So what's a parasynthetic emulator? I had no idea what this was. I didn't even know the words existed. So I looked them up to try to figure out what the heck this thing is that's being created. Pretty interesting to discover it has to do with word formation, new word formation. And could it be that these are the new "God's words" which I read as words we are co-creating as our Divinity continues to descend/ascend and fuse into physical matter. See what you think.

Parasynthesis – “the formation of words by a combination of compounding and adding an affix, as in downhearted, formed from down plus heart plus ed, not down plus hearted. Parasynthetic-adj.”

Emulator-noun-“ to strive to equal or excel, especially through imitation.”

I also liked this explanation from the computer science interpretation.

“To imitate the function of (another system) as by modifications to hardware or software that allows the imitating system to accept the same data, execute the same programs, an achieve the same results as the imitated system.”

If any of you have any ideas about this I would love to hear from you. Be well!
